

Process for preparing polyol mixtures

Abstract

- 5 The invention relates to a process for preparing mixtures of polyols for further processing to give polyurethanes, comprising at least one graft polyol, which comprises carrying out the mixing of the polyols between the preparation of the polyols and the preparation of the polyurethanes, by means of a continuous mixing process.